

6.70 – SOLICITATION

- A. Commercial solicitation of school employees or pupils during school hours by agents, or salesmen is prohibited, however, individual teachers may confer with them on business at times when they are not engaged in school duties, provided they have the approval of the superintendent of Schools and building Principals.

Insurance or investment solicitation which affects employee benefits will be approved by the Superintendent.

- B. No employee of the school district is permitted to use his position in soliciting children or parents in projects which involve the expenditure of money for goods, services, summer camp attendance and the like without the approval of the building principal or the appropriate administrator.

The Parent Center will keep a resource list of teachers who offer private tutoring/lessons.
